

GRC international relief in Latin America

With various projects the GRC is also involved in Latin American countries like Haiti and Columbia. Read the latest project reports and information on emergency relief work, medical support, adjustment to climate change and support for disadvantaged people.

Colombia: Mobile health units and children

Violence and poverty characterise the life of the population in many parts of Colombia.

read more

Colombia: Climate change

The population of Colombia's Caribbean coast is particularly vulnerable to the effects of extreme weather events associated to climate change.

read more